BACKGROUND

MILITARY ARMAMENT CORPORATION began business in 1970. Their Ingram sub-machine guns and Werbell silencers were the highest quality, smaller and most effectively suppressed selective fire weapons in a new generation of development. As sometimes happens in business, there was internal strife. MAC filed for bankruptcy in 1975 in the U. S. District Court for the Northern District of Georgia in Atlanta.

R. P. B. Industries Incorporated (a new corporation) whose three original stockholders (owners) were two former officers and an employee of MAC purchased the assets (parts and dies) of MAC with the approval of the court appointed trustee. This seems highly unusual to say the least.

- * R. P. B. was sold recently and will soon change their name to SIONIOS INC.. The new management has already made agreements with MR. GORDON B. INGRAM (the genius who designed the INGRAM M6, M9, M10 and M11 SMG'S - among others) and MR. MITCH WERBELL III (the brilliant inventor of the best silencers and pressure relief valves ever made). New production has already started (according to the original high quality MAC standards) on new production M10 and M11 SMG'S, silencers and the ALL NEW M10 and M11 SEMI-AUTOMATIC PISTOLS & CARBINES. Orders are now being taken from federally licensed gun dealers. The semi-automatic pistols (SAP'S) and semi-automatic carbines (SAC'S) fire from the open bolt - just like the SMG'S. All parts are interchangeable except; the semi-auto weapons do not have selective fire sear pins (selector) and the pistols do not have a stock. Also, the semi-auto lower receivers do not have a hole for the selective fire sear pin. All weapons are made with threaded barrels for sound suppressor (silencer) attachment.

NEW SMG, SAC, SAP and SILENCER PARTS may be purchased through the mail (by U. S. residents only) * * from SPECIAL PARTS LTD..
